"You all played great ... now let's go to Sonic"

My name is Lisa Davis. I coach the JV Volleyball team at Van Alstyne High School in Van Alstyne, TX. Recently the girls made up team spirit shirts. When they gave me my shirt that they had made, I knew I had to share the story behind the shirts.

The story behind the spirit shirts:

Early in the season we were playing in a volleyball tournament. At the end of an outstanding match, I was so excited that I told the girls "You all played great ... now let's go to Sonic". So we loaded the bus and went to Sonic to celebrate our win.

A few matches later, we again had such an awesome game that I told the girls "Wow, you all did so good ... let's go to Sonic," and so we did.

The next time that we had a great game, we were in the locker room after the game and one of the girls yelled out: Let's go to Sonic! I told them that we couldn't because we were out of town and had another team to watch and cheer for (Varsity game). The girls all giggled. This trend of us playing great and always in the locker room someone would yell "Let's go to Sonic" continued. I would always explain that we couldn't because of needing to support the other Van Alstyne teams. The girls would just giggle. Finally they explained that earlier I would say, "Let's go to Sonic," after a great game and so now that is how they say "Great Game". Instead of yelling "Great Game Team," they yell: Let's Go to Sonic! So their shirt means that we play great all the time because every game is a "Let's Go To Sonic Game."

We hope you enjoy our t-shirts and our story!!!
